When we decided to re-design our company website we set certain parameters that we knew would be extremely difficult to attain. We wanted the site to stand out from the crowd, we wanted it to be in the best of taste and we wanted a great hosting package at reasonable cost.

After many hours of surfing the net and looking at hundreds of sites (both good and bad) we found some great work by Johann Scheving at johann@scheving.com. We asked him to give us an estimated cost for all of our requirements. The price was more than fair. Together we then designed the website and Johann had it posted much sooner than we thought possible.

His marketing services soon after came into effect and our visitor figures went through the roof. The new website went from being our least successful marketing tool to our most successful marketing tool. Whenever we contact Johann with queries or changes he ensures that our needs are answered within a few hours..... Bearing in mind the time change between our two countries I still wonder if he sleeps with his computer!

As to costs, we paid him less than 10% of the cost of our recent visit to the hunting conventions in the USA (which only gave us a very minimal increase in business) The new website however has proved to be the best business investment we have ever made.

We will continue to use Johann's services for the foreseeable future and will recommend him to any and all of our friends. Both personal and business..... but not to our competition!!!!
